Interactive Exhibitions

Interactive exhibition: Alice in Wonderland

For Key Stages One to Three

Follow Alice down the rabbit hole and have adventures in Wonderland. Take tea with the Mad Hatter, play croquet with the Queen of Hearts, dance a lobster quadrille.

On the day, we will come into school and set up the exhibition in your hall. The children will visit one class at a time, spending roughly 30 minutes to 1 hour exploring multisensory exhibits which follow the narrative of the story. Using games, puzzles and interactive objects, as well as artistic representations of the story and its characters, this session will bring the story of Alice to life. The exhibition requires a space of at least 100 square metres, and can easily be moved for the lunch hour.

Interactive exhibition: Theseus and the Minotaur

For Key Stages One to Three

How was the Minotaur created and captured? How did Theseus defeat him? What happened next? The famous Greek tale of Theseus and the Minotaur is brought to life. The day comes with a set of resource materials for teachers including a plot summary and main characters, text and images from the exhibition, to familiarise your class with the story before the experience.
